

FAN Presents:

Ed Dunkelblau, PhD

Director of the Institute for Emotionally Intelligent Learning

Raising an Emotionally Intelligent Child

Have you ever wondered why some children navigate the social and emotional waters of life more smoothly than others?

Emotional intelligence refers to a person's ability to handle emotions and social relationships. Dr. Dunkelblau will bring humor and insight as he discusses the principles of emotional intelligence and how you can raise your child with these skills. You will take away great information, such as:

- The vital importance of social emotional skills for your child's success
- Our role as parents in helping to develop these skills
- Specific strategies to support our children in the development of social emotional competence.

Don't miss this valuable presentation!

Wednesday, January 25, 2006 from 12:45pm to 2:30pm
New Trier High School, Northfield Campus, 7 Happ Rd., Building C, Room 234

Ed Dunkelblau, Ph.D. is the director of the Institute for Emotionally Intelligent Learning, a licensed clinical psychologist, and a nationally known speaker and author on the topics of emotional intelligence, humor, and health. He is past president of the Association for Applied and Therapeutic Humor and a contributing author to the Handbook of Humor and Psychotherapy. He consults regularly with schools and Fortune 500 companies and his work has been featured in the Chicago Tribune, USA Weekend and on CNN.

Open to the public - Suitable for parents with children of all ages.

For more information and directions, please visit FAN's website www.fan-ntts.org